

You may see a thing through an adult's eyes and appraise it something near the truth, but to really see all of a circus my friend, you must get a perspective of youth. You must gather some kids, say some boys and some girls, who haven't the price of a shison, and you'll have to do down to some cream and bellows, I will give you a plenty of dough. But whatever you spend at the circus my friend, let the youngsters tell more than regard for they'll see things that you paid entirely up, and they'll give you a wonderful day. There is dress there of course in the frisel and glare, but the youngsters believe it all and, without them to see and to cheer, the sights will lose you quite soon and cold, so stay on to the headlars and bellow, a kid or a boy will get third or a nate, take them down to the lot where the mousing get and the weather is bright, sunny-eight

Judge Is Disgusted With Petty Cases

Tells Constables To Get After
Real Criminals In Liquor
Cases

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 7.—Judge William D. Dom, with patience worn thin, opened the May term of criminal court this morning by admonishing constables to spend more time in running down real liquor law violators than to devote so much attention to the individual who keeps liquor in his home for his own consumption.

The jurist said that in glancing over the liquor cases before the courts recently he found few with any real merit and complained that constables who have been in the habit of staging wholesale raids did so without the formality of first ascertaining whether the object of their search warrants was a habitual violator and sold or transported liquor.

In the arrest of persons who have liquor in their possession merely for the satisfaction of their own appetites Judge Dom stated that the wrong violators were being punished and the real criminals getting away.

Rubbish Gatherer
Gets Wrong Stuff

Apparently Arthur Hettrick who has a mule and wagon and makes a business of gathering up rubbish, ashes etc. gathered up too much rubbish yesterday for last night. Officers Richards and Thompson caught him in the act of trying to drive his horseless outfit in the South side district while very much too drunk to properly navigate it. They placed him under arrest and placed his mule and wagon in a South Side barn for safe keeping.

This morning he was fined $10 by the mayor for being drunk while driving his horseless carriage and also assessed him for the keep of his property while sojourning in the city jail.

No "Whispering Campaign"

can withstand the light of this truth: Lucky Strikes are made from the finest of fine tobaccos—the cream of the crop. Lucky Strikes alone are toasted because toasting is a secret process. 20,679 physicians definitely state that toasting removes impurities. Then, too, it adds to the flavor and prevents throat irritation. Therefore, without fear of contradiction, we can say truthfully:

"No cigarette, regardless of price, is as good as Luckies whether manufactured by The American Tobacco Company or by any other company."

City Folks Eat Little Hen Fruit

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 7.—(By Associated Press.)—The National Egg Week Professor F. L. Hume, of the Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Pennsylvania, who is here today, has conducted a survey of egg consumption in six cities of the state. The average consumption per person in six cities of the state was 28.71 dozens annually, or about 1.92 eggs a day.

Pittsburgh, Erie, York, Williamsport, Pottsville and Uniontown were the cities studied. Consumption of eggs per capita annually was found to be highest in Pottsville and lowest in Pittsburgh. Eggs are convenient to carry in the lunch box, and may of the anti-bacterial cream which is put on six eggs at one meal. In Pottsville the per capita egg consumption is 32.4 dozens each year. The Pittsburgh figure is 28.05 dozens; Erie, 20.21 dozens; York, 29.86; Williamsport, 29.31; and Uniontown, 29.61.

Negatives were found in the survey, to be heavier consumers of eggs than white people. In Erie, negro families average 32.3 dozens per person in York 30.4 dozens, and in Williamsport 30.3 dozens annually. For cooking and baking the largest quantity of eggs was used in Erie, averaging 12.41 dozens for each person. The lowest quantity used for this purpose was in York, with an average of 9.25 dozens per capita, or 31 percent of all eggs used.

Color of eggs is not an important requirement of consumers in these cities except in York, where 53 percent of those interviewed preferred brown eggs, 32 percent were satisfied with either color, and only 15 percent preferred white eggs.

House Accepts Oath Of Dead Member, Is Very Unusual Case

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The House Monday took the unusual procedure of accepting the oath of office of a member after his death.

The oath of office, administered in Panama to Rep. John J. Casey (D) of Pennsylvania, who died Sunday, was accepted on motion of Rep. Kloss (R) of Pennsylvania.

Having been taken ill in Panama, Mr. Casey had not been in the house since March 4 to be sworn in. When it appeared that he would die in the house authorized the taking of the oath before a notary public in Panama.

Under the house practice, the widow of a member is paid $10,000 representing his salary for one year. The house later adjourned out of respect to Mr. Casey's memory.

La Guardia Files Resolution Barring Sale Of Newspapers

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Disclosure of the International Paper and Power company's interest in newspapers prompted Rep. La Guardia (R) of New York to introduce three bills designed to prevent further acquisition of newspapers by power interests.

The first bill would require all newspapers to announce ownership and interest in the Masthead of the publication, a second would require articles referring to any business of the owner to be marked as advertisements and a third would prevent power companies from making tax reductions for losses incurred in newspaper investments.

TOMMY GOSLIN HAS A BRIGHT IDEA

Mother Goose was about to speak and Father Gander and his Goslings were all attention.

"The children are growing very restless; it is all I can do to make them keep quiet," said she.

"You see their strength is coming back, and to tell the truth, my own wind now seems almost as good as it ever was. But we have a long, long journey ahead of us, and it would be foolhardy to attempt it right away, for in spite of the fact that we are feeling better, not quite yet are we in far-flying condition again."

"Being a wise Gander, nobody knows better than you, husband, that we never will be in far-flying condition just so long as our hearts are sad. And can any of us help being sad as long as we stay here?"

Mother Wild Goose was all out of breath when she had finished her long speech. She waited for her husband to answer.

"No," said Father Gander, shaking his head. "None of us can!" He gazed sadly upon the fallen Wild Goose. "I suppose the longer we stay long fly from such a sorrowful scene. We, all of us, you and I, the Geese, just as much as the Goslings, need to be cheered up a bit. Who can do it more quickly than the Loons? Why just to watch them at their funny antics will drive away the blues in no time. That is why I think Tommy's scheme so fine."

"Honk! Honk!" remarked Father Gander, thoughtfully. "Let's see. If we go on such a long trip to Loon's Lake and yet long enough to prove our strength and the funny things we shall see when we get there will make us forget our sorrow. So, as my old uncle used to say, we shall pluck two cherries with one bite."

"I won, I win," cried Tommy Gosling, whirling around and around in the pond, turning somersaults in the water just for fun. "We go to the races, we go to the races! Those crazy Loons! How they will laugh when they see us coming!"

Next: "Every Knack's a Boost!"

Senate In Hole On Mellon Case It Would Seem

Senate Guilty Of Violation For Administering Oath To Member In Hospital

SENATE READY TO DISMISS MATTER

Mellon Contest Given Direct To Senate In Six Full Reports Today

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7.—While intent on learning whether Andrew W. Mellon has served, during his absence from the country, the United States Senate itself was guilty of authorizing a violation of law, it was learned today when it directed a clerk to administer the senatorial oath of office to Senator Henry Shipstead, D-Minn., in a Baltimore hospital.

The senate's action acquired considerable importance since it permitted Shipstead to "step" upon the export certificate plan of a farm relief, which may be adopted or rejected by a simple vote.

Under a statute, enacted by the first congress, it was provided that the senatorial oath should be administered only by the vice president or the presiding officer of the senate. Shipstead's oath was administered by John C. Crockett, chief clerk of the senate, who went to Baltimore for that purpose under a resolution passed by the senate while only a few senators were present.

Rule Violated

It was the first congress which drafted this statute. Oath of senators. The oath of office can be administered by the presiding officer of the senate to each senator who shall be sworn, previous to his taking his seat.

The importance of the senate's quitting implicit observance of the letter of all laws can't be disputed. In Shipstead's case, where his vote may determine the farm relief battle, the importance is increased. It was pointed out that should his vote decide the farm bill, the law itself might be contested successfully in the supreme court and thrown out as an "entirely" illegal act.

The Mellon contest meanwhile was taken to the senate. Six separate reports were made to the senate during the day. Nine members of the senate judiciary committee signed one report, declaring Mellon in office legally. Four senators signed another, declaring him in office in defiance of law because of his ownership of corporation securities. Three other senators reported Mellon in office legally so far as can be ascertained by suggesting a further inquiry. One of the latter senators planned to offer a postscript to this report, while still another declared to add some observations to the second report. Another senator planned to report that the senate had no power to make any investigation.

May Lead To Revision

The inquiry, however, probably will lead to a revision of the law, governing a secretary of the treasury's business activities. Senators Borah (R) of Ida., King (D) of Utah, and Dill (D) of Wash., suggested that the law be rewritten, bringing it up-to-date and making it plain.

"Our personal views," they said, "are that the law is sound in principle, but it is poorly expressed in the form of modern methods of carrying on business."

The Mellon case may be pushed to a final decision by the senate although leaders on both sides would prefer to drop the matter. Senator McKellar (D) of Tenn., who sponsored the inquiry, however, has announced he would ask the senate to vote upon the issue.

OTTO PEARSALL

Otto Pearsall plays the part of Jim Everett in the coming senior play. Everett is a particularly fine type of ex-service man whose misfortune it is to become involved in the net of evidence which the police weave about the murder committed "At 9-45."

Young Pearsall as the general president of the graduating class which is presenting the play, enters easily into a role of this type. By this time he welcomes the footlights as the war-horse welcomes the sound of the trumpet since he has already appeared in "Kempy" and "Twelfth Night." Otto Pearsall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pearsall of New Castle.

SINCLAIR BEGINS HIS NINETY-DAY SENTENCE IN WASHINGTON JAIL

reserve in a manner which the United States supreme court described as highly fraudulent.

Sinclair has started the service of his 90-day sentence for contempt of the senate which arose from his refusal to answer certain pertinent questions relative to his dealings with former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. Still pending against him, though on appeal, is a six-months sentence for alleged jury tampering when he went on trial for criminal conspiracy in connection with those dealings.

It was a far different Sinclair who marched in to breakfast shortly after dawn this morning at Major William Peck's district jail from the janitor man with the bulldog face and the confident smile who had stood in the criminal branch of the local supreme court and heard a Washington jury acquit him of a far more serious charge. He was nervous and pale this morning and the felons, drunkards and vagrants who shared his mess hall didn't seem to add to his crestfallen appearance.

Very Plain Breakfast

Also, as before indicated, the exceedingly plain, though wholesome menu of the jail breakfast failed to compare at all favorably with what he has been accustomed to.

Cereal and bologna for breakfast, however, was just the start of a humiliating and heart-breaking day for the man who is rated as being worth

After breakfast, came the painful business of being fingerprinted and thus forever set down in police records as one who has "done a stretch." The man who smeared Sinclair's fingerprints and pressed them on the tell-tale card was an embosomer of parts who now holds an important position in the jail.

The next step in this red-letter day of special servitude was to be an interview by Major Peck with his distinguished prisoner. On the outcome of this conversation will depend Sinclair's exact status for the next 90 days. Peck will undertake to ascertain just what the oil magnate is best fitted for in the way of occupational activity and then assign him. If there is an opening in the office, Sinclair unquestionably will get it for his record as a financier is impressive. If there is not, the 90-day prisoner will be taken in during the current fiscal year may get a hospital assignment. A third condition might even result in his removal to the work farm at Occoquan, Va., although that is not likely.

Warden Puzzled

Frankly, Major Peck is a little puzzled over where he should place Sinclair. On the one hand, he should be in the clerical staff, but it should be filled by one with stenographic ability. Fractiously, it was suggested this morning that the millionaire might be taken to Occoquan and instructed to drill an oil well.

The oil man "checked in" at his new quarters last night at 9:45 p. m. nearly 30 photographers were strategically grouped outside the jail entrance.

Sinclair was subjected to the routine search. The clerk then prepared the card index that catalogues the oil man as prisoner No. 10,520. His name, age, residence, ability to read and write, vocation, etc., etc.

To Be Drug Clerk

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Harry H. Sinclair, who used to jerk soda in a Kansas drugstore before he became the head of a $600,000,000 oil concern, went to work today in the District of Columbia jail amid surroundings that must have given him a reminiscent moment.

The poorly multi-millionaire oil magnate was assigned to work in the drug and medicine department of the big brick jailhouse.

Major Peck, the jail superintendent, has been searching his head for days over what he was going to do with his famous prisoner in the way of assigning him to a job. It isn't every day he has a multi-millionaire among his "guests."

In giving the details of his life's history to the major for the permanent record, Sinclair disclosed that he was a registered pharmacist, with a degree from the University of Kansas.

"Fine," said the major, much relieved. "You report to the drug room for duty."

"Okay," said Sinclair.

His duties in the drug room won't be onerous. In the first place, there aren't many drugs. The shelves and cabinets are sparsely filled with things that usually are found in the ordinary family medicine chest—iodine, band-aid, equipment and a goodly supply of what the army used to know as "C. O." pills, etc.

The oil magnate is the first registered pharmacist ever incarcerated in the jail, according to the records. Dr. Morris Hyman, the jail physician, was overjoyed to get an assistant. Heretofore, Dr. Hyman has been mixing his own medicines and compounding his own pills, but for the next 90 days he is going to have a well-equipped assistant.

If there are any operations during this period, Sinclair will act as the doctor's interne.

Guy W. Brown Is Given Six Years For Embezzlement

Former State Senator Gets Two-Three Year Sentences; Brother Paroled

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Guy W. Brown, prominent Fayette county banker and former state senator, today was sentenced by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson to serve three years in the federal penitentiary for alleged misapplication of the funds of two banks with which he was connected.

Jesse R. Brown, his brother, also involved in the manipulations, and who pleaded no defense at his trial, was paroled for three years.

Guy W. Brown's counsel, Samuel Kaufman and W. G. Houser, immediately filed petition for an appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals, and Brown was placed under $10,000 bond, the same as the one on which he had been at liberty since the trial.

Guy W. Brown was sentenced on two counts of three years each, to run concurrently.

Titusville Man Is Freed In Death Of Man By Automobile

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., May 7.—Ray Some, of Titusville, will not have to stand trial on charges which grew out of an automobile accident near Waterford during the winter.

A not true bill was returned by the May grand jury in criminal court here today, which absolved Some from criminal responsibility in connection with the death of an aged man. It was alleged Some fled the scene of the accident after his automobile had run down and fatally injured the victim.

The girls' families turned the letters over to state police, who arrested Freese. The youth declared his actions had been inspired by the story of the slaying of Little Marion Parker by Edward Hickman at Los Angeles more than a year ago.

Lya De Putti Is Through Forever With Hollywood

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 7.—"Never, never will I appear in another film in Hollywood. The place deadens you. There is no opera there, no theater, no life, no talk such as one finds in London. Budapest or Paris."

So says Lya De Putti, the little Hungarian film actress who has come to London to work in British films.

Shocked by Hollywood's broken promises, which, she says, are caused by lack of "true love," Miss De Putti thinks the divorce scandals of America's film world will spell ruin for the pictures.

"They will kill the pictures—those who want to advertise their stupid marriages. For the public marriage, I think, is still a serious thing."

Seventeen members of the New Castle Lions Club are in Altoona attending the sessions of the annual convention of the Lions Clubs of the state of Pennsylvania. Extensive efforts have been made by the local men to secure the state convention for New Castle next year. Kang Lion E. D. Marvin and the remainder of the delegation went to Altoona expressly for this purpose. Lion Ralph Kocarske had planned to fly to the convention city as a part of the publicity stunt program, but was prevented because of inclement weather.

Instead of holding their regular noon meeting today the club decided to not hold one and pay into the blind work committee fund that amount which is usually spent for the weekly dinner.

Alleged Slayer Is Absolved Of Buffalo Killing

Man Who Faced Death In Electric Chair, And Later Reprieved, Stands Absolved

International News Service

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 7.—Edward Larkman, alleged bandit who was saved from the electric chair by former Governor Alfred E. Smith, ten minutes before the time set for his execution, was absolved today of any participation in the murder of Ward J. Pierce, for which crime he was sentenced to death.

Anthony Kalkiewicz, member of the "Big Kormie" gang, told police that "Big Kormie," four local gangsters and a Chicago man whose identity was not divulged—looked part in the holdup of the Art Works Metal Shop here in which Pierce, a paymaster, was killed.

Larkman was convicted in 1926 on the positive identification and testimony of a local school teacher.

Larkman is no in solitary confinement at Auburn prison. His attorneys have announced their intention of making application to Governor Roosevelt to have the prisoner released.

Larkman's three-year-old daughter, Betty, died here about three weeks ago.

Things are getting a little better for father in some ways. For instance, they used to blame him for spilling the ashes on the parlor rug and now they can't prove whether he or mother did it.

A DIAGNOSTICIAN GITTIN' AT THE BOTTOM O' THINGS

Too many folks jumps into new activities, new jobs, new positions, after they've reached forty-five or fifty without stopping to take stock of their reserve force, without havin' their hearts an' livers examined an' tuned up. Their kidneys gone over, an' their spines kneaded. A feller'll take up the cornet at forty-five, or start to raise squabs for the market at fifty, or begin to study law at fifty-five, just like he intended to live forever. He knows enough to have his car inspected an' overhauled, his shoes half-soled, an' his straw hat cleaned, an' mebbe, if they hurt too much, he'll have a tooth or two yanked or plugged, but he never gives a thought to his gizzard. He keeps right on eatin' red meat, macaroni, platters, white bread, condiments, an' coconuts, an' dreamin' o' the day when he'll beat the world with his cornet, or be the envy of all criminal lawyers. It's amazing what all we kin eat after we've been dosed with a diagnostician—celery, charcoal tablets, fish, buttermilk, fish eggs, whole wheat muffins guardedly.

These things, Personally, I'd hate to give up stewed tomatoes, but I'd willingly attempt it if I thought I'd live eighteen or twenty years longer. I think a feller owes it to his creditors, if not his family, to have a good once a year instead o' droppin' off a critical age o' any man or woman, a critical age o' a car that's been rattled off at an "Eks" fair. Any recognized diagnostician with improved X-ray apparatus, lung tester, searchlight, an' rubber hammer, kin check up a forty-year-old human machine for more easily than the most skilled mechanic kin find out what's wrong with a used car. It's estimated that at least 50 per cent o' people are too cowardly to be tinkered with. They're afraid they're goin' to die an' they don't want to know it. "Oh, I'd rather die than cut out fiked platters," a feller'll say. Others feel the same about smokin' an' hot, bakin' powder biscuits, but new an' then diagnosticians find that we may indulge temperately in all o'

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation and send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set out a fresh remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROD and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROD is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless, natural, easy to take, and an always successful remedy. It has been sold at McKee's Drug Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Boys Have Long Wait For Circus

At Least A Hundred Boys At Grounds Before Eight O'clock

Boys who were at the circus grounds bright and early this morning to see the circus unload and to try for the usual circus jobs had one grand wait.

As we all know five or six o'clock in the morning is the time to start for the circus grounds on circus day. So this morning was probably no exception and boys were there early. A little before eight o'clock this morning there were probably a hundred and fifty people at the circus grounds waiting for the circus train to get in, but their wait was not yet over as the circus did not get in until about nine-thirty daylight savings time.

Of the crowd waiting, at least a hundred and maybe more were boys who were probably going to try to get a job so they might earn their admission into the show.

Burns Healed Without Leaving A Scar

We used nothing but San-Cura and didn't even have a physician and in almost an incredible short time her face was perfectly healed without a scar. Former Sufferer Pays Glowing Tribute To Powers And Merits
Of This New Medicine.

"I had indigestion, dizzy spells, lack of vitality and appetite, and it is no wonder that neuritis and rheumatism set in," said Mrs. Naomi Lang, Gays Mills, Pa. "Konjola filled my system with pain and impurities. I was tired out and ached so that I moved about with difficulty and pain. It is just wonderful the health that Konjola brought to me in just four weeks. The constipation was relieved almost over night, and as the poisons and impurities were swept from my system, I could feel new health and strength coming. Within two weeks the rheumatism and neuritis pains had left me."

Stomach Pangs Triumph Over Broken Heart

FAIRMONT, W. Va., May 7.—A four-day hunger strike, which police say was caused by a lovers' quarrel, was broken by Noble Layman when the pangs of hunger became more unbearable than the pain of a broken heart. After two days of fasting, Layman took sleeping pills and lay down on the porch of his lady fair. Police removed him to the hospital, where he accepted liquid nourishment today.

The wet and dry quarrel long since reached leviathan dimensions, but now it happens to be capitalized on a tonnage basis.—The Springfield, Mass., Daily Republican.

WHY NOT TAKE ARSENIC? IT IS MORE MERCIFUL

Hundreds Of People In New Castle
Are Poisoning Themselves Every Day And Suffering All
The Time

WORLD'S TONIC MAN SAYS YOU CAN PICK THEM OUT ON THE STREET BY THEIR LOOKS

"Yes," said the World's Tonic representative, "I mean what I say when I report that a lot of people in this town would be better off if they took a little quick poison, instead of permitting themselves to be poisoned every day. You can see them on the street, dragging themselves along in misery, some of them brave about it, but some clear down in despair."

"The pity of it is that their suffering is unnecessary. Stomachs that are too weak to retain their food, eyes that show how they feel, and weary steps that tell the story—all of these are evidences of slow catarrhal poisonings that are not so slow in many cases as they seem. These victims have of catarrh run on until the body is full of waste products, and the blood is so full that the poisons are not thrown off."

"Stomach, liver, kidneys—something gives way, and in due time all is disturbed. I'm sorry for those folks for I have seen thousands in that condition who were speedily cured by this good-working medicine. They have come in different stages of catarrhal poisoning and after taking one or two bottles of World's Tonic I hardly knew them when they came back, and they were so much better."

"If the people of New Castle who have catarrh had seen what I have seen they would state no time to waste in the druggist and taking World's Tonic. World's Tonic is for sale by New Castle, Pa., Druggists, Smith and all other good drug stores. (A-54)

Schumaker Speaks To Hi-Y Members

Discusses "Crime" At Meeting
On Monday Evening; Nominate Officers

At the regular meeting last night the Hi-Y, decided to have a picnic on Monday, June 10. It was also decided to drop the former plan of the girls bringing the food. Either the girls were too hard to find or the fellows were concerned over how much their stomach could stand. The chapters have been chosen and all other preparations are under way.

The list of nominees for office next semester was announced, and the election will occur next week.

The speaker of the evening was Alvan Schumaker, a prominent local attorney. The subject of his talk was "Crime."

First, Mr. Schumaker asked the question, "Why do we punish criminals?" After a discussion among the members of the club he answered his own question with four possible reasons. They were: first, retribution; second, putting the criminal out of the way; third, the attempt to make him a good citizen; fourth, and most important, the effect it has on others. He went on to say that if we know the punishment for a crime it is likely to keep us from committing such a crime.

Mr. Schumaker then told about the different kinds of crime and went on to explain court procedure.

Speaking of prohibition, Mr. Schumaker pointed out that since it had come into effect the enrollment in high schools and colleges had been doubled. He said that the man who drives a car while intoxicated is a menace to society and should be given no mercy.

Mr. Schumaker said that he believed the jury system should be changed so that the decision of a certain number of the jury would decide a question instead of requiring the unanimous decision of the whole jury. He mentioned two suggested reforms of the jury system, one being that three judges should decide all cases and the other that a professional jury be maintained.

In closing Mr. Schumaker spoke of criminal investigation. He mentioned the system of crime detection used in European countries. He said that the chief difficulty in crime detection had been that the police officers are not well enough trained. He pointed out that Pennsylvania has recently authorized a school for detectives at Temple University. He related two interesting cases where one clue led to another and finally ended in catching the criminal.

This is the third time Mr. Schumaker has spoken to the Hi-Y, and his talks are always thoroughly enjoyed.

Centlemen:

Some of us "Old Timers" who have always been deeply interested in the success of our Y. W. C. A. noted with much regret the resignation of Miss Cora Ritchey as general secretary, as announced in yesterday's News.

Business girls of the city who are supposed to be benefitted by our Y. W. have found her at all times most cordial and helpful.

Her years of welfare work not only overseas during the World War but as an employee of two of our largest corporations make her services most valuable to an organization like the Adv.

It is very unfortunate if our local Y. W. C. A. board cannot continue her connection as general secretary with the association.

Very respectfully,

Laura M. Stevenson.

Balloon rolls of the automatic wringer will not break buttons. The drain board is stationary, of solid copper. The water board tilts either way. Power Company Opening Office Over In Bessemer

In keeping with its rapidly expanding business in the Bessemer district, the Pennsylvania Power company, believing that Bessemer is becoming a business center, is taking a move to establish a center, electrically speaking, that will take care of the needs of the people in that community.

A store and an office have been opened up there to handle the business accruing to the company there. It is anticipated that with the paving of Route 17 that there will be increased travel and business there that will justify the move made.

The company plans to rebuild its line to that district to take care of the expanding electrical business that the company is already enjoying there.

One of the improvements that will result from the activities of the power company, will be the use of new electric street lighting system.

RUSSIAN COUNTESS, 105, VISITS CITY

Dr. Charlotte Goller Davenport, Russian Countess, 105 Years Old Visits City; Is World Wide Traveller, Linguist, Musician And Is Mother Of 11 Sons.

Back in the years when United States was in the embryo, when Europe was in an even greater state of turmoil, when knee skirts and knickerbockers were unheard of, a girl was born in Russia.

To be sure there is nothing strange about that, but this one little girl, who was born at St. Petersburg in the year 1824, is still living. She is Dr. Charlotte Goller Davenport, a countess, and in New Castle at the present time.

She is 105 years of age, she says, showing many papers to shadow doubt as to the authenticity of her statement, and feels better, lives better, and is better than the average person much less than half her age.

Boredom Kills

This countess and full fledged doctor has been in the city before. Some few years ago she was here for a short visit and 33 years ago she spent time here teaching her philosophy of longevity which in a nut shell is "don't die of boredom and obey nature's laws."

"There is one aristocracy," confided Dr. Davenport to The News reporter, in an interview this morning, "and that is the aristocracy of brains." And she is certainly a disciple of her own philosophy. Back through the years of her extensive travels from one end of the globe to the other she has met and known Robert Louis Stevenson and a host of others in the realm of the literati and things scientific and has kept many keen memories concerning them.

Thursday evening at the Y. W. C. A. she is going to tell middle aged women just what they are, how they reached their present status and what to do about it. The lecture is entitled, "Americanism."

"No," she said, "no cosmetics at all. They are injurious to the skin. Don't eat too much, take plenty of exercise but don't kill yourself with silly calisthenics, and obey nature's laws."

That is a part of her health formula which has kept her mentally and physically active all of these years.

She knows many languages and the interviewer and interviewed had quite a chat in French. She is also an accomplished piano player. As a graduate from the medical school in Vienna, she is said to be the first woman from Russia to receive this degree. She has also taken 15 post graduate courses.

"Disabilities?" Yes, she lost an eye while fencing but the other is still excellent and two teeth are missing from one of those Prince of Wales affairs with a horse but otherwise she is in perfect health.

During the interview, she told the reporter many times never to remain in one place too long. "Too many people die of boredom," she admonished. "Live quickly and do not desert your ideals."

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Veto of 11 bills and approval of eight was announced today by Governor John S. Fisher.

The governor vetoed a measure sponsored by Senator George Weingartner, Lawrence, which would have permitted schools in second and third class school districts to remain open during the entire year. The bill did not carry any provision for the additional money to pay salaries of teachers and for that reason was not approved.

Dog Raids Rabbit Pens And Kills Flemish Giants

G. F. Ball, who runs a rabbitry at Walms, sustained a severe loss one night recently when an Airco dog broke into his pens and killed 17 of his large Flemish Giants. When he heard the commotion in his pens Ball rushed out and captured the dog. By means of its license tag it was found that the dog belonged to a man named Ray on the North Hill. An information was made before Square A. H. Gilmore of Neshauners township, charging Ray with permitting his dog to run at large. Ray stated that the dog had been tied but had broken loose. He paid Ball for the rabbits killed and the dog was dismissed with payment of a nominal fine and costs.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

DOING AND TELLING HOW. . . . There seems to be an inexhaustible supply of words to tell how things ought to be done. We have all sorts of theories, for instance, as to how schools ought to be conducted and as to how teachers ought to teach. This is the age of experts but the experts are occupied with telling how. There doesn't seem to be any too much practical example.

FIGHTING AUTHORITY. The first step in crime says a reformer is to fight with authority. He says if there were more recreation centers where children might play instead of in the street—where they come into conflict with the police—they would grow up to be better boys and girls.

Conflict with authority is trouble that most of us encounter. These excessively free, bohemian folks who try to make light of all conventionalities and all authority are setting the most dangerous example to youth. High intelligence recognizes authority and the power and value of conventionality. High intelligence never expects to be free. It thinks in terms of adjustment to those rules that are for the greater good of the greater number of people.

INVESTMENT. It is not strange that the ablest business men in any community are nearly always ready to give money to the Young Men's Christian Association. They recognize that investing in the Y. M. C. A. is making an investment in youth. The organization is not a reform organization. It is constructive and constructive. They are going to build a new Y. M. C. A. building in Brooklyn, John D. Rockefeller Jr. has offered the huge sum of $250,000 toward the project. Big business men know real investments.

WHAT ELINOR GLYNN SAYS. Elinor Glynn defines happiness as doing what you want to do and finding satisfaction in doing it. Madame Glynn is ready to know much about love. But there would be little happiness in this world if it was all confined by Elinor Glynn's definition. Most people do not do what they want to do except in very limited doses. Mostly they do what they have to do. Doing what you have to do and taking satisfaction in the knowledge that you are doing it as well as you can may be as good a recipe for joy as the eminent Madame Glynn.

Normal Rainfall For Month Of May Is Almost Reached

Weather Conditions This Month Are Far Different From Last Year

Only four-hundredths of an inch of rainfall is needed during the rest of the month of May to reach the average normal rainfall for the month, Weather Observer E. F. Johnson reported today.

The average rainfall during May is approximately 3.3 inches. Already 3.25 inches have been recorded and it is only the 7th of the month.

Conditions are far different from last year, when only 1.76 inches of rain fell during the entire month of May. More than this amount fell during the heavy storm last week.

The abnormal amount of rainfall is reflected in agricultural activities. Farmers are far behind their schedule this year and unless the rain ceases up pretty soon crops are going to be far behind schedule. Onions should have been planted long ago, while it is now almost time to put in corn and other crops. As it is, few farmers have their ground plowed and will be unable to do so until they have had at least a week of dry, hot weather.

"Oh, had some power the little gle us To see ourself as others see us! It was frae monie a blunder frae us And foolish notion."

Would that some men who turn down life insurance when they have a chance to get it, could see—not themselves—but their families a few years hence!

Civil War Veteran Says Famous Ten Herbs Is Just As Represented

Another fine tribute is paid Ten Herbs, the new medicine with the ten wonderful herbal ingredients. It comes from a local veteran of the civil war, who, despite his advanced age, found blessed relief by using

MR. ISAIAH MYERS

Ten Herbs after all else tried had failed. This famous compound has been a boon to many men and women of this locality, giving them freedom from stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness. No wonder so many local persons of all ages and stations in life are praising Ten Herbs to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where he is daily demonstrating this successful preparation.

Ten Herbs restored me to good health after I had tried other medicines without getting satisfactory results," was the recent statement of Mr. Isaiah Myers, who is 82 years old and lives on Mt. Pleasant Street, Greensburg, Pa., according to the Ten Herbs Man. "I had suffered from indigestion for many months. My appetite was poor, and no matter how careful I was about what I ate, I had gas and pains in my stomach. Often there were pains in my back. I was forced to get up several times each night and this broke my rest and kept me nervous. I had rheumatism in my side and in one ankle and knee, which pained terribly at times. Constipation bothered me so much I was continually taking physics."

"Friends who had taken Ten Herbs with good results recommended your medicine to me. I started taking Ten Herbs and it did me a whole lot of good in a comparatively short time. My appetite is fine, and I can eat without suffering from stomach pains or bloating. The pains have left my side, knee and ankle, and my bowels are regular. I can sleep without being disturbed by having to get up at night, and I have much more energy. I can say that Ten Herbs is just what it is represented to be. I gladly give your medicine a public endorsement."

Veterans' Post Ends Campaign

Foreign War Vets Present Chairman Bell With Gold Membership Button

Members of the Harry L. McBride Post, No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, officially terminated their 1929 membership campaign last evening, when applications for about 15 new members were voted upon.

The drive for new members this year has been unusually successful under the direction of Comrade James Bell, who was presented with a gold membership button by Commander Orville Potter in recognition of his splendid work. He secured the most new members during the campaign just closed.

Tickets for the annual Mother's Day banquet, Thursday, May 16, were distributed among the members. The post voted to contribute $10 to the fund for the stricken Stevens family, whose home was destroyed by fire Saturday, resulting in the death of three of the members of the family.

Plans were discussed for the annual poppy sale during the course of the meeting, and a good organization is being built up to handle this work. At the close of the evening, a feed was served by the entertainment committee.

PARIS, May 7.—Germany's conditions for acceptance of the Young plan as the basis of a solution of the reparation problem, were handed to the allied and American experts today by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and chief of the German delegation.

The reservations stipulate:

- 1.—Suppression of the recovery act.
- 2.—Suppression of outside control of German finances under the Dawes plan.
- 3.—Maintenance of the greater part of the transfer clause for the protection of German currency.
- 4.—Means to allow Germany to increase her capacity to pay.

Under consideration.

The German conditions, which were in written form, were taken under consideration by the other experts.

Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee of experts, was said to have told the allied delegates:

"Germany can pay, but is obstinate."

It was reliably reported that the allied experts were "surprised and chagrined" over the written memorandum of Chairman Young explaining how he had reached the figures contained in his plan. This memorandum was handed in last night for study before the private conversations were renewed today.

The allies, it was said, had presumed that the figures of the Young plan had been based upon an equitable cut in the mixed claims of the allies and the United States, but discovered otherwise.

Runaway Youth Is Held By Police

Youth Recites Hardluck Story At Circus But It Fails To Get Over

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Trial and tribulation—lonely wandering through Europe and America as a boy (now, today by a 14-year-old youth who was taken into custody last night at the East Liberty show grounds where a circus is performing.

Court attaches accepted the story and grew sympathetic, until a "faked" telegram disclosed the fact that the youth was Raymond Felts, of Buckhannon, W. Va., and had run away from home.

The youth told police he was Fred Fortnash and that he had been born in Akron, O. His parents, theatrical folk, died when he was a babe and upon their death he was cared by circus people, he told the court. And then he had travelled through Europe as a boy clown, and had returned to America, where he continued his homeless wandering.

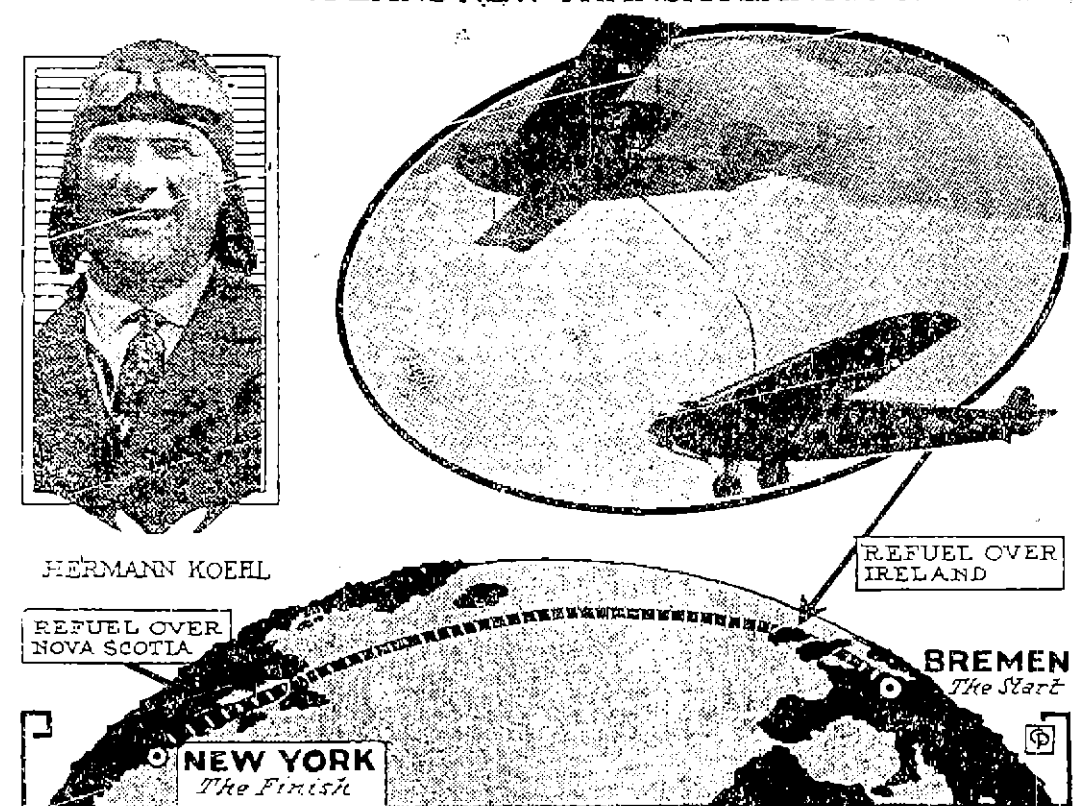

The spectators grew sorrowful. Until a reporter noticed that a new cap the boy carried bore the mark of a Buckhannon establishment.

The newspapermen left the courtroom, and returned a few minutes later with a telegram purporting to come from Buckhannon and asking Pittsburgh police to search for a 14-year-old boy.

The youth then admitted that he had run away from his home in Buckhannon two days ago, and disclosed his identity.

He was delivered to Y. M. C. A. officials who will return him to his home.

"Make Trip Abroad---Then Appreciate America," Says Mr. McKinney Just Returned

"Americans should make the trip that I have just completed to appreciate our own America," said Robert A. McKinney, president of the New Castle Golf and Country Club, who returned from a two and a half months' trip abroad, which took him during that time over 21,000 miles of land and water.

"In some hotels where we stopped there was no soap, and at different places there was no butter either," Mr. McKinney remarked. Mr. McKinney further stated that his trip was highly enjoyable and that there were times on his trip that he was fortunate to a day or so ago wore Madiera, Naples, Athens, Constantinople, Alexandria, Cairo, Jerusalem, Damascus, Rome and cities in Ireland and England.

Before concluding the interview, Mr. McKinney added that such a trip as he has taken is one which every American should look forward to and save money for. Mr. McKinney had looked ahead to the time when he could do it for years, and now has realized that inspirational trip.

Diegel Displays Sensational Golf

Leo Diegel, Sensational American Golfer Shoots 79 For Par At Muirfield,
Scotland

(International News Service)
MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 7.—Leo Diegel, the temperamental American professional champion, spread-eagled his field today in the second half of the British open golf championship by shooting a sensational 35-70 to equal par for the course establish the low round record of the tournament and take the lead for the medal by six strokes. The par qualifying 70, with Leo's 74 in the wind and rain of yesterday, gave him a 36-hole total of 144 and apparently every right to expect that the qualifying medal will be his at the end of the day.

In second place came Cyril Tolley former British amateur champion, with a total of 150 while Phil Perkins, the present champion, was in third position at 152.

Scores in general were better today because, while the wind still blew, the rain no longer rained. In consequence, Arthur Havers had a neat 72 to bracket him with Henry Cotton at 153 strokes. Cotton having a 74. However, Walter Hagen, the defending champion, slipped back to 79 today and was bracketed at 154 with Horton Smith, who had a 76. Bill Muhlhorn also rode in with a 76 to finish one stroke behind his two American rivals.

Mac Smith, Gene Sarazen and John Golden also were expected to qualify with totals of 150 each. Smith and Golden having 77's today and Sarazen a 73. However, Joe Turnesa with 150, Jim Barnes with 150 and Al Espinosa with 161 were grouped in what was regarded as a very dangerous spot for those who wished to continue in the tournament.

Sprinters See Bracey As New Speed Demon

(International News Service)
FORT WORTH, Texas, May 7.—Respect born of fear might be said to be the manner in which rival sprinters, indeed, for that matter, whole track teams, regard Claude Bracey, Rice Institute's speed demon.

Ever since Bracey ran the century in 9.4 at the Southern Methodist Relays at Dallas a few weeks ago, regardless of the fact that he had a stiff wind at his back, sports writers have given the Dixie Flyer no little amount of attention.

Talkies In Colors Is Next In Movie World

NEW YORK, May 7.—The "Rainbow Picture" technique dialogue and the use of sixteen film strips, soon will treat the eyes of the millions of moving picture fans throughout the country.

The films are not only superior to the eight films in use in films before the "talkies" displaced the silent films but the new sixteen films are expected to aid in the artistic expression of different moods in the plot.

Careful study and experimentation may lead to the development of sound pictures combined with films into a powerful emotional tool in the hands of the master motion picture dramatist.

ist," said Lloyd A. Jones, head of the Physics department of the Eastern Kodak Research Laboratories, who announced the achievement today before the meeting of the Academy of motion picture engineers.

The industry has been seeking "talkies" ever since the world films forced the pictures back into the neutral gray tones of the early days of the business.

The development of the new tint does not mean that sound pictures will go into natural colors which so far have met with other technical difficulties. But it does mean that sound-on-film systems will be able to project scenes in the all-over tint, adapting each mood of the drama to a psychological appropriate color.

Maine Resorts To Advertise By Talkies

PORTLAND, Me., May 7.—Despite the disagreeable pre-season weather, indications point to a successful summer vacation season in Maine this year, according to reports issued by the Maine publicity bureau headquarters here.

During the first week that advertising of the state was begun, 1,044 letters requesting information regarding the state were received by the bureau. Many asked concerning trout fishing.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby a sound motion picture company, whose releases have a nationwide distribution, will make a "talkie" picture one reel long of salmon and trout fishing in Maine.

The Credit Men Ought to Know

EVERY MAN is morally obligated to pay his bills promptly. Prompt payment of bills reflects good character. Character is the basis of credit.

BUT sometimes the unforeseen happens. The most well-meaning of us may be victims of misfortune, illness or unemployment. In such an instant the least that can be done is to advise the credit man, and be assured of reasonable allowance for the non-payment of your account, which might otherwise be misunderstood as negligence.

Finefrock Home After Voyage To Hamburg, Germany

States German People Seem Prosperous And Work Is Plentiful There

LOCAL BOY HAS FINE TRIP ABROAD

Food Finefrock of 315 Florence avenue has arrived home after spending the past two months and a half on a voyage to Bremen and Hamburg, Germany.

Finefrock sailed aboard the S. S. Eastern Planet, owned by the Yantow line of Baltimore, the latter part of February. He had shipped as an able seaman, but shortly after the voyage started, the ship's carpenter was taken ill, and Finefrock volunteered for his post, which carried with it an increase of $20 per month in pay.

The trip was taken more in the spirit of adventure, but proved a profitable one, as well.

Arriving at the Haffens, a wharves in Bremen, the ship docked and tied up there a week, during which time, he was afforded a splendid opportunity of seeing this city. The ship then proceeded on the way to Hamburg, where another week was spent, before the home voyage was started.

Work in Germany seemed quite plentiful, according to Mr. Finefrock, and the people all seemed prosperous. Hamburg's night life was quite gay, he reported, the cabarets being well filled and quite daring in character.

Civil regulations did not seem as strict as in this country. He noticed quite a few street fights and little attention was paid to the combatants by the police.

Going over, the Eastern Planet had a narrow escape from colliding with a Scandinavian vessel. It was while passing through the English channel and the weather was quite rough and foggy. The Eastern Planet was observing the rules of the sea, blowing its horn every few seconds, and proceeding under speed. Suddenly the Scandinavian vessel loomed up in the darkness, directly ahead. They missed each other by only a few feet. In the meantime, all hands had been called on deck and ordered to don their life preservers.

The weather was quite rough going across, the ship taking the northern course. Returning, the vessel came back by way of the Azores on the southern route, and the voyage was much more pleasant.

Mr. Finefrock expects to go back to Baltimore the latter part of this week, or the first of next, and with his brother, William, will endeavor to work their way on some boat leaving on a voyage to foreign lands.

Growing Cotton At Fire Station

Something rare in New Castle is to be seen in the fifth ward fire department, in a box about eight feet long and two feet wide are rapidly growing 17 plants of cotton which were sent to a member of the fifth ward department, who two weeks ago planted 18 seeds of the southern production, and today 17 plants close to one foot in height are noted.

Several of the plants have little balls of cotton on them and in four or five months the cotton will form into what is known as the boll. The plant resembles the four-leaf clover. The planter of the seeds stated that he had had the seeds for a long period of time until two weeks ago he thought he would experiment on the southern production.

Bollinger Also Aided In Rescue Attempt Saturday

Temple Avenue Man Tried To Save Girl From Burning Home

According to reports received at The News office late yesterday, Harry Bollinger of 929 Temple avenue, one of the first arrivals at the blaze which destroyed the William Stevens home on Cascade street and resulted in the death of the three Stevens children, made several attempts to rescue little Virginia, who had gotten part way out the upstairs window and was imprisoned when the window sash let go and dropped down over her shoulders.

Mr. Bollinger was on the ladder several times, but was forced down by the smoke on one occasion and on the second attempt the flames from the window beneath drove him back.

Mr. Bollinger stated that he had grasped the child by the arms and tried to free her, but could not do so. He says that he was the only one on the ladder.

Local Man's Home In Florida Razed By Recent Tornado

Was Only Home In Jacksonville Heights Protected By Tornado Insurance

Word was received yesterday by A. J. Mee of Marina street, that a home owned by him at Jacksonville Heights, Florida, had been among those destroyed by the tornado, which swept across Florida last Thursday.

The house had been insured against tornado damage to the extent of $2,800. Mr. Mee stated, which would represent only a small portion of the value in case it was totally destroyed.

He had put extensive repairs on the home last winter which cost him that much money.

He expects to leave for Florida on Wednesday night to learn the full extent of the damage done, and make preparations to repair the damage done.

Wood—All balsa, except second item.

Fuselage—2 longerons, 3-6 by 3-6 by 39 1/2 in.; 1 piece bamboo pole, 19 1/2 in. to be cut into braces; 1 piece balsa, 1-4 by 1-8 by 6 in. for plugs.

Wing—1 entering edge, 5-16 by 5-16 by 30 in.; 1 trailing edge, 3-8 by 3-32 by 32 in.; 15 ribs, 4-1-16 by 1-20 in.; 2 ribs, 5 by 3-20 in.

Elevator—1 entering edge, 7-32 by 3-16 by 10 in.; 1 trailing edge, 3-16 by 1-8 by 11 in.; 9 ribs, 2-11-32 by 1-20 in.; 2 ribs, 3 by 1-10 in.

Tail plane—1 entering edge, 1-4 by 1-4 by 10 in.; 1 trailing edge, 5-16 by 5-31 by 10 1/4 in.; 9 ribs, 2-11-32 by 1-20 in.

Propellers—2 12-in. diameter, cut as explained in text.

Metal fittings—To be formed of .035 in. piano wire, 2 shafts, 2 bearings, as per drawing, 6 cans as per drawing, 2 S-hooks, 1 nose hook, 6 washers.

Fabric—1 sheet Japanese tissue paper 1 by 1 yd.; 1 spool silk for binding, 38" ft. by 3-16 in. flat rubber threads, 3-8 in. rubber bands for attaching planes, 4 election rubber bands.

Liquid—Ambrdoid for adhesive, dope or banana oil for treating surfaces.

Proceed with the construction by starting with the A-frame motor base which has the tail plane inserted in the rear. The longerons are to be made into "I" section as shown in Figure II, having 1-16 inch flangers and 1-3 inch web.

Sandpaper Smooth.

The longerons are sandpapered smooth and painted with dope to strengthen them, then one end of each is cut to a chisel-like taper, so that when the tapered ends are placed together, the other ends will be 11 inches apart. The nose is then Ambrdoided together, fluted with the nose hook and bound neatly. The bamboo piece is next split so that four pieces 1-8 by 1-32 inches in section are obtained. From these, the two x-braces are made and inserted at the places indicated by the drawing.

They are attached by the method shown at the detail named "frame joint section" by using the short piece of balsa 1-4 by 1-8 inches in section and cutting it into little plugs about 3-8 inch in length which are Ambrdoided in place and into which the bamboo braces are fastened by sharpening their ends to a chisel-like point and Ambrdoiding them in slits made in the plugs. The braces are pushed well into the plugs to secure a firm joint.

A small straight bamboo brace is attached in the same manner six inches from the nose. Before the Ambrdoid sets, sight along the longerons, making sure that they are straight; if not, move the braces to make them so, being careful to preserve the proper separation at the rear.

The next part of the frame to make is the tail plane. The entering and trailing edges are cut to the section shown in Figure II. This may be done with a small plane, penknife, or by cutting a metal scraper with a slot of the proper section and using it to reduce the sticks to the right shape as shown in the drawing. The ribs may be made in one of two ways: 1. Cut out to that shape and used as a template, then sand on thin slices of balsa, and used to cut around with a knife. The edges and ribs are now painted with dope to strengthen them. Small slots are cut in the entering edge, one inch apart, and into them the ribs are Ambrdoided. The trailing edge is Ambrdoided direct to the ribs without having been slotted. If the tail frame is laid on a board and pins are placed in the board against the edges of the frame, it can be held while the Ambrdoid sets.

The tail plane is attached to the A-frame by placing little balsa plugs in between the flanges of the longerons, Ambrdoiding them in place and cutting little recesses in them to receive the tail-plane edges, which are Ambrdoided therein. Figure I shows the position of these plugs. The cans can now be formed to the shape shown in the detail drawing and Ambrdoided in their respective places. The bearings are bent from piano wire and attached to the rear of the frame with thread and Ambrdoid. The tail plane is covered with tissue paper.

To do this, paint each edge on the under side with dope, lay a piece of tissue thereon, and lightly rub over it to make it adhere. See that it is smooth and tight. Lift the fabric where it lays over the longerons, paint dope under it, and rub that down. When dry, trim away excess paper. Similarly, cover the top, trimming the paper on the edges with a slight margin which is folded around and doped to the under edge. When dry, paint the entire surface with banana oil or dope thinned with acetone. This completes the A-frame.

Main Plane Important.

The main plane is a very important part of the model and must be made with great care to insure successful flights. The balsa edges are cut to size, sandpapered smooth and doped, then cut in half and rejoined at a slight upward angle. The angle should be such that when one side is laid flat and horizontal the other end will be two inches above the surface. The edges are rejoined by bending a short piece of small section bamboo at a slight angle, then Ambrdoiding and binding it to the abutting pieces which are also coated with Ambrdoid. Next, as with the tail plane, the entering edge is slotted, and the ribs, cut to pattern in Figure II and doped, are Ambrdoided in place, two inches apart, ever, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing direct-cut-outs are made in their centers, as shown. If the metal end of a pencil has its eraser pulled out and its edges sharpened, it can then cut out little circles of balsa from the rib in the same manner as a cook cuts dough into biscuits; the circles can be joined with knife cuts to produce the cut-outward almost over night.

Making The Winner Model

BY PAUL EDWARD GABER

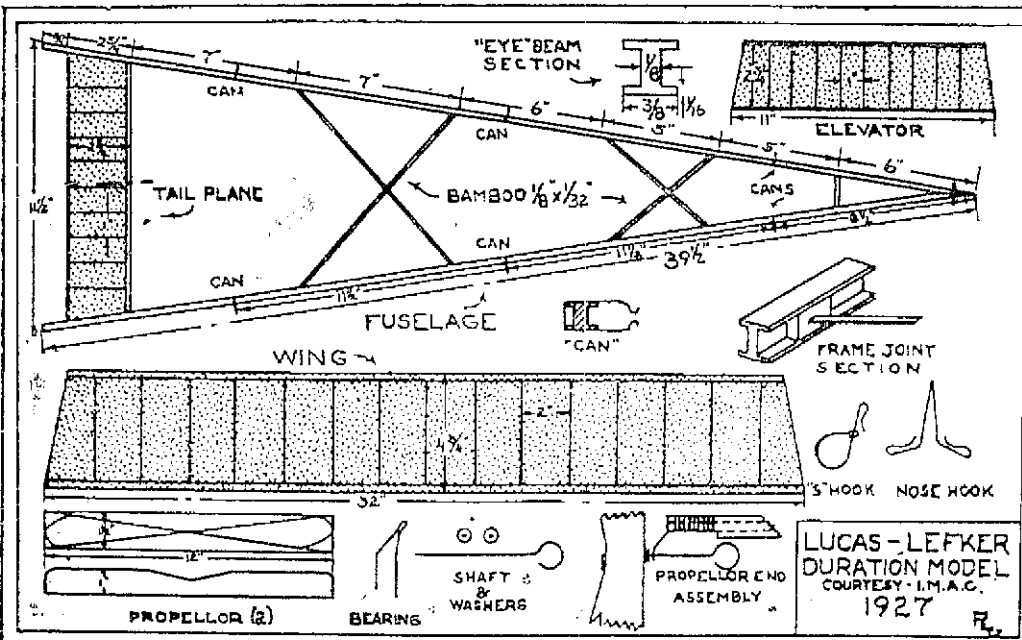

Fig. I

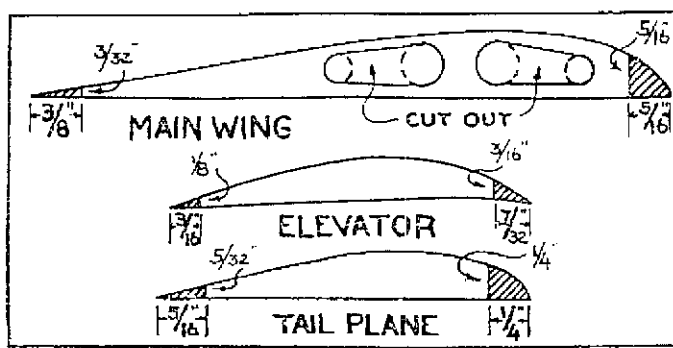

Fig. II

The plane I am about to describe in this article will be called the Lucas-Lefker model for the man who designed it and the boy who flew it to a record duration for juniors. Construction requires the following:

Wood—All balsa, except second item.

Fuselage—2 longerons, 3-6 by 3-6 by 39 1/2 in.; 1 piece bamboo pole, 19 1/2 in. to be cut into braces; 1 piece balsa, 1-4 by 1-8 by 6 in. for plugs.

Wing—1 entering edge, 5-16 by 5-16 by 30 in.; 1 trailing edge, 3-8 by 3-32 by 32 in.; 15 ribs, 4-1-16 by 1-20 in.; 2 ribs, 5 by 3-20 in.

Elevator—1 entering edge, 7-32 by 3-16 by 10 in.; 1 trailing edge, 3-16 by 1-8 by 11 in.; 9 ribs, 2-11-32 by 1-20 in.; 2 ribs, 3 by 1-10 in.

Tail plane—1 entering edge, 1-4 by 1-4 by 10 in.; 1 trailing edge, 5-16 by 5-31 by 10 1/4 in.; 9 ribs, 2-11-32 by 1-20 in.

Propellers—2 12-in. diameter, cut as explained in text.

Metal fittings—To be formed of .035 in. piano wire, 2 shafts, 2 bearings, as per drawing, 6 cans as per drawing, 2 S-hooks, 1 nose hook, 6 washers.

Fabric—1 sheet Japanese tissue paper 1 by 1 yd.; 1 spool silk for binding, 38" ft. by 3-16 in. flat rubber threads, 3-8 in. rubber bands for attaching planes, 4 election rubber bands.

Proceed with the construction by starting with the A-frame motor base which has the tail plane inserted in the rear. The longerons are to be made into "I" section as shown in Figure II, having 1-16 inch flangers and 1-3 inch web.

Elliott Frederick Is Given Sentence

Convicted Embezzler Is Given Term Of Two Years In Prison By Judge Today

The International News Service of PITTSBURGH, May 7.—For several years a receiver and trustee in bankruptcy estates, Elliott Frederick was sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary today for embezzlement of $51,000 from bankrupt estates.

Frederick, on December 21, pleaded guilty to two indictments charging him with the embezzlement from 16 estates in which he acted as receiver or trustee under federal appointment. The amounts embezzled ranged from $600 to $14,170.

Last October he was committed to jail for contempt of court when he failed to file final reports in these cases. Frederick was formerly president of the credit men's adjustment bureau of Pittsburgh.

Ingrown Nail Turns Right Out!

Pain Stops Instantly!

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing direct-cut-outs are made in their centers, as shown. If the metal end of a pencil has its eraser pulled out and its edges sharpened, it can then cut out little circles of balsa from the rib in the same manner as a cook cuts dough into biscuits; the circles can be joined with knife cuts to produce the cut-outward almost over night.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh and the nail turns naturally with knife cuts to produce the cut-outward almost over night.

"FLY-WORM" MAKES ITS DEBUT

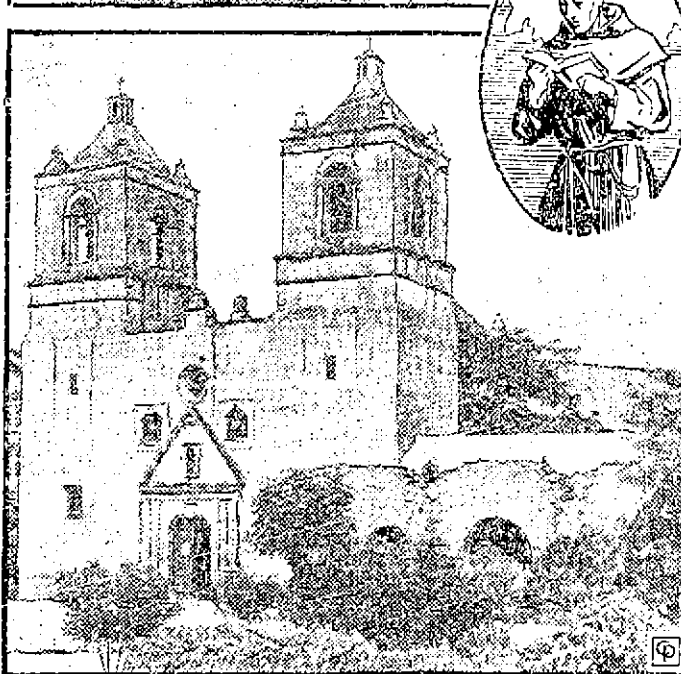

This strange craft is called the "fly-worm" by its inventor, Paul Maiworm, of San Diego. The plane, nearly completed, depends on the rapidly revolving tube to lift and propel it. Helical fins within and without the tube "push the air back." Altitude and direction are attained through tilting and pointing the tube, which is said to revolve at only 300 revolutions a minute to give craft a 60-mile speed. Maiworm adopted the hummingbird principle.

Your Broadway AND Mine BY WALTER WINCHELL

(By Central Press)

NEW YORK, May 7.—Another Park Rowque has passed on and those of us who never even met him are saddened. T. A. Dorian he was christened, but the world over affectionately called him "Tad", the initials of his tag. It was not our luck to have ever known him personally. But his letters came frequently, and to one who migrated from the "smallies" and was scared, too, these letters from one of the mightiest of the "biggies" were comforting indeed.

An invalid for seven years, they say. And he penned those hilarious, comical "Indoor Sports" and other copy from his bed. Sick as he was, Tad found time to prepare words of cheer to contemporaries whenever they wrote something that tickled his fancy. We quote his last letter in his own hand, chiefly to reveal the sort of fellow he was. "Dear Winchell," I read, "I have come so seldom these days that I simply must thank you for the belly-yow! you handed me today with the Bank of Italy quip. Drop over some time. I'd like to help you with some I know—Good wishes, Tad."

ALWAYS BELITTLED
Judge, a three-fifty mag, contains, among other things, this report, too.

Mr. Winchell: How about a little giggle-antler so we can drink the health of that phraid you're Garbo-Gilberting with? She's some voo-voom, and I'm that way about her myself.

Mr. Winchell: Thanks for them colored words.

I get it, I get it!

INCIDENTALLY
Judge probably more than anyone else, will appreciate this classic from a Chicago paragrapher, who recently quipped: "T. P. A. Ashton Stevens, Walter Winchell, 'Skippy', and others have been fired off life by the new editor, who has also dropped the price down to a dime—and it's worth it!"

NIFTY
Credit Ashton Stevens with the report that Richard Bennett, the actor, telegraphed a hostess that he could not come to her party on account of having partaken of a dinner that contained much garlic.

She wired back: "What's a little garlic on a man who will play a part like 'Jarnegan'?"

SHE BEGGED FOR IT
Many Hoots of the Henry Santrey act hastens along the one about the waitress in a Child's restaurant, who was irritated almost to the point of murder. The cranky old lady at one of her tables, it seems, had changed, her mind at least half a dozen times. Finally she ordered a cup of cocoa, but the waitress carelessly placed a cup of coffee before her.

"What is this?" almost screamed the old woman "what is this? I W. C. A. will take to West Pittsburgh."

Everyone in the vicinity looked up.

"That, madam," said the flushed waitress sweetly, "is the Panama Canal."

GIRL RESERVES TO HIKE ON WEDNESDAY

Members of the Girl Reserve of the Scotia Street Neighborhood House led by Miss Grace Lowers of the Y.

will hike to West Pittsburgh on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

This is the first hike that the girls of the group have taken and plans are to have quite a number of hikes in the future.

It is announced that the Girl Reserve of the George Washington Junior High School may also hike Wednesday with the Neighborhood group.

Since Feb. 1, last, nine major railroads have advanced wages of seamen three or four cents an hour. On the Pennsylvania system, the average wage is 83 cents an hour.

Firestone
Leadership started when it developed and sold the first automobile tires replacing the clincher tires which were held on the rims by wires. They also developed the first practical Non-Skid Tread design. Firestone then replaced the high pressure tire by developing and selling the first Gum-Dipped Balloon, which today holds all world records for speed, safety, mileage and endurance. This Leadership is maintained by the development of the Firestone Supreme Balloon, which is the last word in design, with larger air volume, added number of Gum-Dipped cord plies, thicker tread, greater non-skid protection, without impairing the wonderful riding qualities of the famous Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon. This new development puts tire construction far ahead of modern driving conditions, embodying powerful, high speed automobiles, equipped with four-wheel brakes, which demand of tires not only greater strength and endurance, but added non-skid features where protection and safety are more important today than ever before. Come in today! We will give you a liberal allowance on your old tires.

Children To Give Annual Operetta

"The Maid And The Golden Slipper" Will Be Presented
Twice This Week

On Thursday afternoon and Friday evening, May 9 and 10, the West Side school will present the operetta "The Maid and the Golden Slipper" in the auditorium of the George Washington junior high school. The school presents an operetta each year.

The maid is none other than Cinderella, of fairy tale renown. Of course, Prince Charming, the wicked step-mother, and step-sisters and the kind fairy godmother also appear.

The principal characters are strongly supported by the lords and ladies in all their grandeur, and by the fairies in their many colored gauzy costumes. The kindergarten toy rhythm orchestra will play before the first and second scenes. The audience will also be entertained during acts by interpretations and doll dances.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
Competitive Armaments

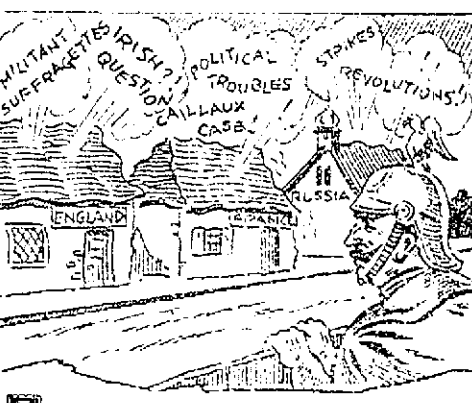

Nowhere in Europe in 1914 was the combination of aggressive nationalism and military preparedness more conspicuous than in Germany. The orderly, industrious German people were completely dominated by their militaristic Kaiser, William II, who cherished a vision of his country as another Rome with himself in the role of Julius Caesar.

He Kaiser scoffed at democratic ideals and methods. "I will put my trust in the army," he said in 1888. During his reign the German army became a magnificent fighting machine, the German navy second only to that of Great Britain in size. Most of the time the emperor went about in glittering uniforms, and was always parading Germany's armed strength.

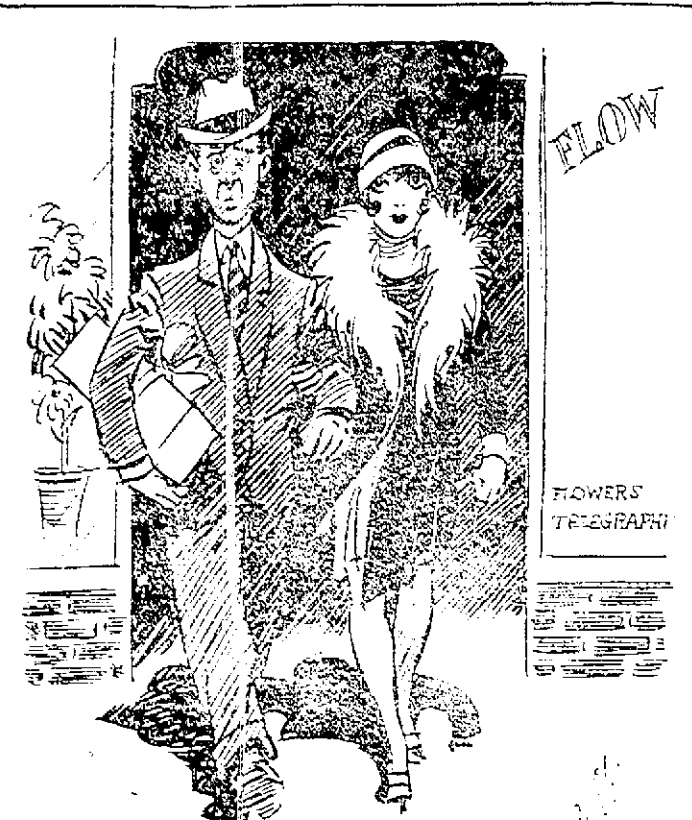

The Kaiser boasted of Germany's "good sword" and "shining armor." Several times (1905, 1909, 1911), he shook the "mailed fist" at other nations, and each time war was narrowly averted. German officers drank toasts to "Der Tag" (the day) when German military superiority should assert itself. The emperor's warlike gestures alarmed other nations.

In 1914 Germany was armed to the teeth. Her mighty war machine awaited only a stroke of the Kaiser's pen to set it in motion against the enemies of the fatherland. Looking over Europe, Germany saw her rivals distracted with domestic dissensions and internal turmoil.

Tony Herrera Wins Over Newton By Knockout

Drops Ray With Left In Fifth

Mexican Shows Uncanny Ability And Punches Like Fiend

SOLOMON LOSES TO JOHNNY CAREY

By ED FRITZ

Fight fans who braved the elements last night to witness the fight between Tony Herrera and Ray Newton, were amply repaid for their trouble when they saw Tony Herrera, Mexican, 130, knock out Ray Newton, 125, in the fifth of a scheduled 10-round bout.

And when they saw Herrera, they saw a sweet fighter, probably the greatest boxer who has lived in this town. He showed the combined skill of Willie Davis and Alvin Karpis, and landed a punch that has earned him many nicknames.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Pich, 190, this six-footed son of Mexico demonstrated that he was in fact among the junior lightweights, and every thing that he did was done with a purpose.

Newton, the best junior lightweight that has appeared for a year in the Philadelphia district, was the boy knocked out. Before the fight, there was much who thought that Newton's aggressiveness, punch and ruggedness would cause the slender Mexican to win.

Herrera captured the first round and in the second Newton got close enough to send a left to the jaw. Herrera whipped his left into action again and hooked, crossed and jabbed. Newton bent to one side and tried to fight at close range but was out-fought.

Herrera showed more speed in the third than in the preceding sessions and sent three lefts to the face. Newton rushed and put a right and left to the head. Herrera slammed Newton with a left cross to the face and Newton sent a right to the chin.

Herrera hooked his left and then sent a right to the chin then bent Newton around the stomach. He caught his attack and wanted an assault on the head while Newton chopped to the stomach. Newton was trying hard but getting no place.

Body Attack Hurts. When round four opened Herrera sent a straight left to the face. Newton stepped in with a right to the head and Herrera went to close quarters and slammed Ray around the body. His attack hurt Newton who carried 135 pounds. The Mexican lost Ray with his speed.

His punching was accurate and he beating around the body weakened Newton who showed distress from the body beating as he walked to his corner and the shrewd observers knew that it was only a question of time until Herrera knocked him out.

Newton sent a left to the stomach when round five opened and they dived with lefts for the head with Herrera having the better of the exchange. He jabbed and forced Newton off balance and sent a right to the jaw and a left hook to the stomach.

The blows followed each other quickly. Newton bent over in distress on the ropes. Herrera followed up the advantage and showed Newton's jaw with short right and left hooks when Ray dropped his hands. He was in dire distress.

Down Goes Newton. The Mexican knew he had his man stepped back a foot then smashed Ray with a right cross and a left hook to the chin. Newton gasped. He tried to get up but couldn't make the grade. He was drunk with punch and was counted out for the first time.

Newton was game and willing but he never got a chance to box with his dynamic punches into the Mexican's frame. Tony proved to be smart and clever and his work was done so expertly that he was not talking of Herrera.

Johnny Carey of Erie, 147, defeated Mickle Solomon, 150, New Castle, in the six-round fight. Carey, a former champion, was a smart fighter and had a good punch. Mickle's manager, he would have been stopped in the fourth.

Carey dropped Solomon in the first for a count of eight. He had a half punch drink when he saw a man was shoved and half punched down for another eight. He was weak when he got up and Carey had another and punched him down again for another count of eight.

Solomon Goes Limit. Mickle came, but still in possession of his senses on account of the time on the floor which gave him chance to recuperate, arose and clinched. He held on and the boys

Maranville Example Of Real Comeback In Organized Baseball

Plenty Of Castoffs Are Playing Head And Shoulders Above Regulars

Other Examples Of Castaways Returning Are Uhle, Gray, McManus, Ford

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, May 7.—The slump who said "they never come back" undoubtedly was a smart city feller and a big help to his dependent nephews but the crack he made simply doesn't go today, unless he was talking about shares from the loan.

In any case, by no stretching of the nose, elastic imagination could be have been referring to Mr. Maranville, the venerable Rabbit, who is doing a job of shortstop for the Boston Braves in a manner most seemly. Man and boy, that had been in and out of the National League for seventeen seasons and no doubt the Avian is beginning to tell on him. Almost any day now he is liable to break right down and make an error.

He finished his twelfth game yesterday without the semblance of misère, which means that he hasn't kicked one away since the 1928 season ended. A young fellow like that ought to be encouraged; he's kind of promising.

"Rabbit" Is Clever

That, as a matter of fact, was Maranville's trouble in the old, swash-buckling days. He was always promising somebody, mostly his manager. The best shortstop in the league at the time, he was permitted to escape from Boston and Pittsburgh. The Chicago Cubs then took up the white man's burden and even went so far as to name the Rabbit manager of the club. He should have been good at that. He had had a lot of experience trying to manage himself.

We will pass quickly and humanely to the next scene which was laid in Brooklyn. The Rabbit tried to get by there and was through in a couple of years. Usually when you are through in Brooklyn, life is just beginning for you in Council Bluffs.

Anybody ever expected to see Maranville in the major leagues again including the gentleman himself. But the moral is that he turned to uplift and the finer things of life in Rochester and won his way to fame and fortune.

He came back with the Cardinals last year, helped to hustle them into the pennant and now is putting life into the ailing Braves in whom all men and women are presumed to have been extinct. He is going after everything and the records say that he has got what he wanted. And outside of the fact that he is hitting around .330, the poor old fellow doesn't seem to be able to do himself much good.

Gray As Example

They never come back? It would be just too bad for the St. Louis Browns if they now to put a decision like that. Sam Gray, for example, either has come back or he is describing an awful lot of people. I understand that the Athletics made the Gray trade a couple of years ago mostly to get a man who was satisfied or to satisfy the man they got. Anyhow, the deal gave him Miller, who was selling automobiles in Philadelphia during the off season, a chance to be near his work or perhaps, and what of it? Blue?

Major league record for double plays and drive in runs by consignment. I'd venture to say that he's back.

High Is Hitting

So is Andy High, who was bowed up at Boston and Brooklyn, gently, but trade and now is hitting over .450 for the Cardinals. So is Horace Ford who once was one of six men traded to the American Association for Johnny Butler. Butler now is no more but Ford and Fritz have the major league record for double plays and are well started on another campaign. I wouldn't say that George Uhle had failed to come back with the Tigers after looking at his 1,000 record with the Tigers nor that Larry McManus, with his batting aver-

Get Results Of Games In Early

The 1929 baseball season in New Castle is about to start.

The New Castle News will publish accounts of games played in the various leagues as far as possible, providing the score sheets are turned in to The News Office the same night the game is played, or at the very latest by 8 o'clock the next morning. This ruling must be lived up to.

Also, The News will not, under any circumstances, this year compile a standing of any league. If the teams and leagues desire a standing result in The News, they must hand the same in at The News Office. Too much time has been wasted in other years in trying to locate ball teams who fail to report games.

If the baseball populace of the city and county will lend their cooperation, the results can be published. Get your scores in early, make this a slogan for the year. It's up to the team managers.

Lawrence County Teams To Start Season Tonight

Three Games On Tap For Lawrence County League Fans As Season Swings Open

By "BUGS"

Tonight the Lawrence County League will shove off for the 1929 baseball season. Three fast games are booked for the inauguration of the year. The games will start at 6:15 o'clock Daylight Savings Time. All of the teams are anxious to get under way.

Commissioner Louis "Pick" Glitch today announced the umpire selections for the opening as follows: Price and Brooks at Clinton Plaza Field; McCann and Nite at Bessemer; Parks and Ross at Mahoningtown.

A heated race for the pennant this year is in prospect. All of the teams have added strength and are vying to go.

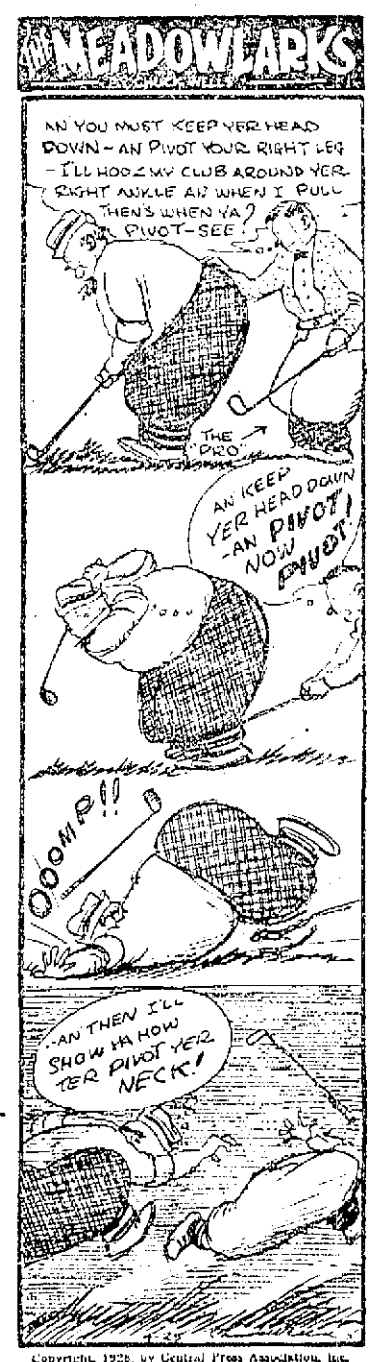

Bob Robertson leads his Wampum team to Mahoningtown to battle the Pennsylvania Railroad team, managed by McCloskey. The game at the Seventh Ward should be a lively affair.

Manager Alec Black leads the Italian A. A. to the Clinton Plaza field to battle the Slovak A. C. team. Hillsville and Bessemer will tangle out in Bessemer, in what should prove to be a fast contest.

Excellent weather is prevailing today for the big hitting ceremonies. The season will close in September. There are six teams in the circuit.

BASS FAILS TO KNOCKOUT MACK

NEW YORK, May 7.—Benny Bass, Philadelphia's leading contender for the featherweight title, has lost his knockout punch, in the opinion of boxing fans who saw him gain a ten-round decision over Peter Mack of Jersey City here last night. Bass battered Mack from pillar to post and floored the helpless veteran twice, but could not score a knockout.

GOLDSTEIN TO FIGHT DAVIES NEXT MONDAY

Fight fans of the tri-state district will get a glimpse of another champion in action here when Harry Goldstein, flyweight champion of the New England states battles Willie Davies, Charleroi and New Castle favorite at the Jolly Bowl next Monday night.

Davies recently boxed "Ginga" around Jackie Rodgers at Pittsburgh and prior to that the fought Midget Wolgast at Jolly Bowl. The judges split and the referee gave the decision to Davies which caused a difference of opinion. Many fans thought Wolgast and Davies fought to a draw.

Glitch Assigns League Umpires

Scholastic Meet Is Planned By Gardner For Tuesday May 21

New Castle, Washington, Wilkesburg, And Possibly Turtle Creek Union Entered

New Castle News And Sporting Goods Store Donate Handsome Silver Trophy Cups

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of senior high school announced today the plans for a big scholastic track meet at Franklin field for Tuesday May 21. The competing schools will be Washington, Wilkesburg, New Castle, and possibly Turtle Creek Union. Washington and Wilkesburg have accepted the date offered them for the meet but the Turtle Creek Union officials have not as yet definitely signified their intention of sending a team here. Word is expected soon from Coach Fox Miller in regard to the carnival.

Last year at Franklin Field, New Castle high engaged Washington in a dual meet and the red and black color path artists took the honors in the meet. The school could not compete on Saturday and this necessitated the change to a Tuesday date.

Fifth Avenue Tailor Reveals
"Lindy" Measured Recently
For Several New Suits

NEW YORK, May 7. The belief that the wedding of Old Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Morrow is just around the corner was strengthened today when it was reported by a Fifth Avenue tailor that the bridegroom had been measured for several new suits.

The tailor said the colonel's orders included a tuxedo and a three button business suit of conservative design. He declined to reveal whether a formal suit such as might be used at a wedding had been included in the purchases.

Colonel Lindbergh arrived at the Morrow estate in Englewood, N. J., early yesterday evening and had dinner with his fiancée, who returned from a shopping tour a few minutes after his arrival.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

What to talk about today, that's the thing. What would one talk about on Circus Day? And the answer is the circus. That's all there is, there isn't any more, waving a deprecatory hand at Fanny Brice. As a matter of fact and all that sort of thing, the circus is about all one would care to talk about. Let the Pirates do as they will, let the stock market race crazily up and down, and let the weatherman make up his mind. As for the engineer of this column, he's going to the circus today and let the rest of the world go by.

Speaking as seriously as possible, it should be understood that this is a dirty, stern, rigorous and unyielding day. For the past two weeks, two young lads, age 5 1/2 and 3 1/2 respectively, have refused to discuss anything but the horses and cowboys and Indians, they are going to see, and this is one day that uncle gets soaked in the back roll and takes it with a smile.

Of course if there is any other entertainment, it isn't going to be missed, but one must have an alibi to go to the circus and that's mine.

out that I was to get a reserved seat for the afternoon show.

As the time drew near for the performance, I asked him, with all the innocence of a twelve year old, when I got the ticket. He said he would go after it and warned me not to leave the spot until he came back. I was still waiting at home later and finally concluded that the world wasn't as honest as I had thought.

Some day I would like to meet that chap. Seeking him right under the mustache would be a pleasant afternoon's work. In fact, it would be well worth a five dollar fine.

Turn back to page one and read that Shenango Pottery story again. If that doesn't push out your vest until the buttons pop, then your soul is hopelessly drab. Doubting the capacity of the Shenango Pottery sounds like the jangle of money in the bank for all of it.

After meeting that British delegation of economists today I'm willing to forget all about the tax on tea. Anyway Parliament recently repealed that tax so we're all friends. There is a something about your English gentleman that just defies any definition. A little of aloofness, a little of shyness, but with them both a splendid personality.

Street signs today Boys and girls from every school in the city—and their parents, struggling to watch them and the parade—balloon fakirs—souvenir men—cowboys—Indians—excuse my stepping on your feet—more crowd—no I couldn't help it—police—men out in front and trying to look at ease—well all right, lady have it your own way. Old timers with chin whiskers, getting kitchy when the good looking cowgirls pass—the big show will start—pawpaw on two—line—papers on the street—feet nearly smashed with the load of humanity next to us—no junior you can't have one of those horses—the man doesn't want to come to our

See you there!

Most All Cities Having Troubles

Heavy Storms Cause Trouble In Storm Sewers Of Other Cities

New Castle is not the only city that has experienced trouble with the sewer system as a result of the unprecedented series of rain storms this year. Most every city is having the same trouble.

Here is a brief note from the Vindicator, showing that Youngstown is struggling with the same problems as New Castle:

Mayor Heffernan's conference with councilmen and other city officials promises that steps will be taken to remedy the admittedly serious faults in the city's sewer system.

After each heavy storm the city has had two in the last month, the total cost of which will exceed $100,000. Industries and residences count the thousands of dollars' damage done to their property and equipment.

What can be done toward a remedy is a matter for engineers to decide. Each month saved in the time used in their survey will mean actual savings to the taxpayers, who now pay twice—in taxes, for damage to public property and in repair bills after a storm.
